

Open Society Foundations / Cambridge Scholarships 2013-14

The Open Society Foundations, in partnership with the Cambridge Overseas Trust, offer outstanding students an opportunity to study at the University of Cambridge, UK, through a jointly-funded scholarship programme – the Open Society Foundations / Cambridge Scholarships.

Why study at the University of Cambridge?

- the University is regularly ranked as one of the best in the world – first in the QS World Universities Rankings in both 2010 and 2011
- its teachers and researchers are world-leading experts, and the University offers superb resources and facilities
- a degree from Cambridge will enhance your future career, and provide a network of contacts and friends that will remain with you for life

Who can apply?

- citizens and residents of Moldova
- candidates for a one-year postgraduate Masters degree in the following subjects:

Conservation Leadership	Environmental Science or Policy
Society and Development	Gender Studies
Public Health	Law

What are the main criteria for receiving a scholarship?

- intellectual ability and leadership potential
- a good degree (at least equivalent to upper 2nd class) from a recognised university
- apply by the deadline and gain admission to the University of Cambridge
- a high level of English language skill
- intention to return to home country after study at Cambridge

What will the scholarship pay?

- tuition fees, College fee, annual stipend (sufficient for a single person), return airfare
- Open Society Foundations also invite all successful applicants to a pre-academic Summer School

How can I apply?

- check out the relevant courses on the University of Cambridge website www.admin.cam.ac.uk/students/gradadmissions/prospec/ especially the admission and English language requirements
